About PCHH

The Presbyterian Children's Home of the Highlands is a residential facility specializing in providing a home for children that have experienced abuse and neglect. We serve both boys and girls from the ages five to seventeen in cottages that hold up to eight residents. We also have an Independent Living Program for young men ages 17-21. Our residents may stay as long as needed – we provide both short term and long term care.

Licensed by the Virginia Department of Social Services, PCHH combines a caring and loving atmosphere with a wide array of professional services designed to help at risk children.

The proceeds from this tournament will go directly to the PCHH endowment fund in celebration of our upcoming 100th Anniversary. The endowment allows for a safety net to help the home carry out our mission should some catastrophic event necessitate. As a golfer you are helping to give our children hope and purpose for the future.
